There are two links for this project:

one of them is the frontend part, the second is the backend.

I'm still working on the checkout button inside the cart, so because this I am sending the project now, after that I can't send this.

You will see the upgrade of the checkout button in github later.

also, I used MongoDB as the Data Base to store all the users.

Thank you for reading and reviewing my Project and I do hope very much that you like it :)
